

Sample 4

1 year old male patient presented Upward slanting palpebral fissures, inner epicanthal folds, Small stature, mouth open with tongue protrusion; mild microcephaly, short neck, flat occiput, short metacarpals and phalanges; single palmar crease which chromosomal abnormality does this patient have?

A. Edward syndrome

Patue syndome

- .Severe intellectual disability
 - .— Microcephaly
 - .— Severe cleft lip, palate, or both
- .Edward syndrome
- .Intellectual disability
 - .— Low-set, malformed ears; microcephaly, t
 - .— Clenched hand—index over third; fifth over

- .1. For which of the following new mothers may breastfeeding be recommended?
- .(a) A woman with mastitis
- .(b) A woman taking lithium for bipolar disorder
- .(c) A woman with breast cancer on chemotherapy
- .(d) A woman suspected to be using drugs of abuse

