

RESEARCH REPORT WRITING AND PRESENTATION

CHAPTER VII

Purpose of Report Writing

- A well designed and performed research becomes futile in the absence of a properly documented report!
- Research results must invariably enter the general store of knowledge.

The following are the important purposes of writing the reports

- Presenting the results
- Easy for all to understand the findings
- Guidance to other researchers
- Formal completion for award of degrees or for publication
- Written evidence
- Finding new idea

Different Steps in Writing Report

- The usual steps involved in writing report are:
- (a) logical analysis of the subject-matter;
- (b) preparation of the final outline;
- (c) preparation of the rough draft;
- (d) rewriting and polishing;
- (e) preparation of the final bibliography;
- and
- (f) writing the final draft.

Logical analysis of the subject matter

- (a) logically and
- (b) chronologically.
- The logical development is made on the basis of mental connections and associations between the one thing and another by means of analysis.

- 1. Formulating the research problem
- 2. Extensive literature survey
- 3. Development of working hypothesis [es]
- 4. Preparing the research design
- 5. Determining sample design

- 6. Collecting the data
- 7. Execution of the project
- 8. Analysis of data
- 9. Hypothesis-testing
- 10. Generalizations and interpretation
- 11. Preparation of the report or the thesis

- Chronological development is based on a connection or sequence in time or occurrence.

Preparation of the final outline:

- Outlines are the framework upon which long written works are constructed. They are an aid to the logical organization of the material and a reminder of the points to be stressed in the report.

Preparation of the rough draft-

- The researcher writes down the procedure adopted by him/her in collecting the material for the study along with various limitations faced by him/her,

- The technique of analysis adopted,
The broad findings and generalizations and the various suggestions he/she wants to offer
regarding the problem concerned.

Rewriting and polishing of the rough draft

- The careful revision makes the difference between a mediocre and a good piece of writing.
- While rewriting and polishing, one should check the report for weaknesses in logical development or presentation.

- The researcher should check up for the mechanics of writing – grammar, spelling and usage.

Preparation of the final bibliography

- It is a list of books in some way pertinent to the research which has been done.
- It should contain all those works which the researcher has consulted.

- The bibliography should be arranged alphabetically and may be divided into two parts;
 - The first part may contain the names of books and pamphlets,
 - And the second part may contain the names of magazines and newspaper articles.

- Generally, this pattern of bibliography is considered, convenient and satisfactory from the point of view of reader, though it is not the only way of presenting bibliography.

Layout of the Research Report

A comprehensive layout of the research report should comprise

- (A) preliminary pages;
- (B) the main text; and
- (C) the end matter. Let us deal with them separately.

- (A) *Preliminary Pages

- In its preliminary pages the report should carry a title and date, followed by acknowledgements in the form of ‘preface’ or ‘Foreword’.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

- At the outset, my thanks go to the Almighty for his abundant grace which enabled me to complete the task.
- I remain ever indebted to Professor V.Balamohandas Ph.D, Department of Commerce and Management Studies, for having been very kind to accept to be my research guide. Prof. Balamohandas held premier positions at Andhra University such as Principal, College of Arts and commerce, Co-ordinator, UGC SAP in Commerce, Chairman, P.G Board of studies, Head of the Department and now occupies the positions such as, Director, Institute of Public Sector Management, Programme Director, MBA (distance mode), Hon. Director, A.P Productivity Council, and so on.

- I wish to acknowledge the academic support of all Professors of the Department of COmmerce and Management studies, AU, at various stages of this work.
- I am also thankful to the University Authorities for giving me an opportunity to register myself for the Ph.D programme and for providing all the administrative support; the Secretary and correspondent of Sri Y.N.College Dr.Chinamilli Satyanaranaya for granting permission to pursue the course on part-time basis;

- Dr N. Chinta Rao, Director, P.G Courses,
Sri Y.N College, for extending kind cooperation and encouragement; all my learned colleagues, Prof.S.Ranganadha,
Messers P.V.Ramasastri,
R.Pardhasaradhi, Ayatham Prasad,
B.V.Reddy Naidu, P.G. Ramanujam,
Ch.Sinivas, A.V.Ramana, Mrs.G.Grace, and G.Rangababu of

- Then there should be a table of contents followed by list of tables and illustrations so that the decision-maker or anybody interested in reading the report can easily locate the required information in the report.

(B) Main Text

- The main text provides the complete outline of the research report along with all details.

- Title of the research study is repeated at the top of the first page of the main text and then follows the other details on pages numbered consecutively, beginning with the second page.

- Each main section of the report should begin on a new page.
 - The main text of the report should have the following sections:
 - (i) Introduction;
 - (ii) Statement of findings and recommendations;

- (iii) The results;
- (iv) The implications drawn from the results; and
- (v) the summary.
