

CHAPTER FIVE

STAFFING FUNCTION

Definition:

2

✍ Staffing is a process of securing and developing people to perform the jobs created by the organizing function.

What is the goal of staffing?

✍ The goal of staffing is to obtain the best available people for the organization and to develop the skills and abilities of those people or to attract, maintaining and utilize efficient and effective workforce.

Staffing functions

3

Major functions of staffing are:

- ☞ Procurement
- ☞ Training/development
- ☞ Maintenance and utilization
- ☞ Separation

The procurement function

4

✎ It concerned with determining and obtaining the proper kind of personal both in quality and quantity.

Human Resource Planning:

✎ It is getting the right number of qualified people into the right job at the right time.

The procurement function

5

Reasons for human resource planning:

- ✍ Scarcity of personnel in some specialized areas
- ✍ High expenses involved in hiring

The process of personnel Planning

Step1:Analyzing organizational objectives and plans

Step2:Determining overall human resources

The procurement function

6

The Demand and Supply Aspect of Human resource Planning:

Causes for human resource demand:

- ✎ External challenges that may affect organizational operations (economic, social and technologies competition)
- ✎ Internal decisions such as strategic plans on growth, production, marketing, etc; work force factors such as retirement, resignation, termination, and death.
- ✎ Therefore, demand forecasting is an essential part of human resource planning process. It is an attempt to predict an organization future demand for employees.

The procurement function

7

Human resource supply/source:

Internal supply

External Supply

Step3:Taking inventory of existing personnel

Step4:Determining net new personnel requirements

Step5:Developing action plans

The procurement function

8

Action for human resource surplus:

- ✎ Hiring freeze
- ✎ Reassignment of existing employees for openings
- ✎ Voluntary departures
- ✎ Lay offs
- ✎ Early retirement

Action for Human Resource Shortage

- ✎ In the short run, external source will be used
- ✎ In the long run staff development efforts will serve to fill the vacancies

The procurement function

9

Recruitment:

✍ Seeking and attracting a supply of people from which qualified candidates for ho vacancies can be selected.

Internal recruitment

✍ Through transfer, promotion, and recall from lay-offs

Transfer

✍ Same occupational level

✍ Same level of wage/salary and other benefits

The procurement function

10

Promotion

- ✎ Advancements to better job-greater responsibilities
- ✎ More prestige or status
- ✎ Greater skills, increased rate of pay, merit and seniority are important factors in promotion

The procurement function

11

Advantages of Internal Recruitment

- ✂ Getting familiar Employees
- ✂ Less costly

Disadvantages of Internal Recruitment

- ✂ It narrows down selection options, results in organizational inbreeding (preventing new blood and new outlooks from coming in)

The procurement function

12

External recruitment

- Unsolicited applicants
- Labor market through vacancy announcements
- Educational institutions
- Employment agencies labor unions

The procurement function

13

Selection:

The selection process may include:

Preliminary interview

Filling Application form

Reference letters

Employment interview

Employment test

The procurement function

14

Aptitude Test-Measures a person's capacity for potential ability to learn

Psychomotor test: measure a person's strength, dexterity and coordination

Job knowledge test: measure the job related knowledge possessed by a job applicant.

Physical Examination

Training/Development

15

- ☞ Training is the act of increasing the knowledge and skills of an employee for doing a particular job.
- ☞ Development involves learning opportunities aimed at the individual growth but not restricted to a specific job.
- ☞ Training is usually related to operational or technical employees while a development is for managers and professional.

Objectives of Training

- ➡ To provide knowledge/skills, attitudes
- ➡ To reduce waste and increase efficiency
- ➡ To minimize inputs use and maximize output
- ➡ To relieve supervisors from close supervision and get time for other duties.

Training Methods

- ✎ Job/Position rotation
- ✎ Coaching
- ✎ Case study
- ✎ conferences, seminars and work shop
- ✎ Internship

Maintenance and Utilization

18

- ✎ Procured and trained/developed employees should be maintained and utilized utmost.
- ✎ This requires adequate remuneration of personnel, the creation of opportunities for progress and a mechanism of evaluating their contribution.

Maintenance and Utilization

19

Compensation:

✍ It is adequate and equitable remuneration of personnel for their contribution to the achievement of organizational objectives.

Pay for a particular position is set relative to three groups:

- ✍ Employees working on similar jobs in other enterprise/External equity/
- ✍ Employees working on different jobs within the same enterprise/Internal equity/
- ✍ Employees working on the same job within the same enterprise/Employees equity/

Maintenance and Utilization

20

Factor Affecting Compensation Decisions:

External Factors:

- ✍ The government through wage controls
- ✍ Union's influence
- ✍ Economic conditions of the industry.

Internal Factors

- ✍ The size and age of the organization
- ✍ The labor budget/resource allocation strategy/

Maintenance and Utilization

21

Methods of Payment

Employees' salaries can be computed based on:

- ✂ The time they worked
- ✂ The output they produce/piece rate system
- ✂ A combination of both

Maintenance and Utilization

22

Performance Appraisal :

✍ Can be defined as human resource activity that is used to determine the extent to which an employee is performing the job effectively.

Objective of performance appraisal include:

- ✍ To provide information to help maintain an equitable and competitive pay structure
- ✍ To provide information towards strengths and weaknesses of employees in their job performance
- ✍ To improve performance by developing strengths and dealing with weaknesses, and others.

Maintenance and Utilization

23

Separation:

✍ Is the final human resource management function

Examples: Retirement, dismissal, layoff; by the employee like resignation, voluntary retirement, quits; by agreement say when contract ends, or they can also be caused by things outside the will of both the employer and the employee (accidents, death), retirement, layoff, dismissal, resignation, quit, outplacement, permanent disability.